

Information Packet

A Letter from the Director

Dear CETP Applicant,

Thank you very much for your interest in CETP!

Participating in a program like CETP can be a challenge — you’ll travel far from home, and begin a new job in a completely foreign environment. You’ll be working alongside people who speak little or no English, and who are from a culture that may not be as similar to ours as it at first appears. But, we think that’s part of what makes this an unforgettable experience, and one from which you’ll gain as much as you give.

We recommend that you read over all of our enrollment materials before you begin filling out the forms, so that you get an overview of the enrollment process.

Your careful preparation of your enrollment packet will ensure that your request for a teaching placement through CETP is processed as quickly and as efficiently as possible. We encourage you to also review our website, as the information there should help you in filling out the enrollment materials. Feel free to call our office if any questions arise during the enrollment process.

Please allow at least 1-2 weeks for processing of your enrollment packet, as CETP evaluates each application on its own merits. We may be in touch during that time if we have questions regarding your qualifications or your placement preferences. We will notify you of your acceptance into the program as soon as possible.

We will know by mid-March (mid-October for Winter) how many of our current teachers are extending for an additional year. This will then give us an accurate picture of which schools will be available. We can then fairly quickly offer new applicants a choice of communities—pairing special requests with the schools’ specific requirements. Also, up until the end of June we will most likely receive requests from school directors who are new to our program. New towns and schools may be added or deleted from time to time. We will do our best to update our list of “places you may go” (www.cetp.info/inside/where.htm) whenever there are changes.

Please be aware that host country entry and work visa requirements can change without warning. We will immediately notify you of any such change.

We will do our utmost to place you in a teaching position that meets most or all of your geographic criteria, but applicants should remain flexible until they receive a final confirmation of placement from CETP. Sometimes, the placement that most closely meets your needs in terms of student age and motivation, town size and cultural amenities, and many other factors, may not necessarily be in your first choice of region. Thank you in advance for your understanding.

Again, if you have any questions concerning our program, the enrollment procedure, or your qualifications to teach for us, please don’t hesitate to get in touch.

Best Wishes,

Mary B. Rose

Our Mission

The Central European Teaching Program provides native English-speaking teachers in elementary and high schools throughout Hungary.

We do place applicants in Budapest schools, though our heart lies in serving students in communities who would otherwise have little or no opportunity to communicate in English.

CETP also offers native English speakers a meaningful long-term professional and cross-cultural experience, and a unique opportunity to become an active part of a Central European community.

Frequently Asked Questions

Am I eligible? If you are a native speaker of English who has or is willing to get some teaching experience before going over to Europe, we most likely we can find a teaching placement for you. The basic requirements are: You must be a native speaker of English. You must be a citizen of the US, Canada, the UK, Australia or New Zealand. You must have a Bachelor's degree, or receive your Bachelor's degree before you begin teaching through CETP. You must be in good health. And, you must complete at a minimum a 40-hour online TEFL course (Teaching English as a Foreign Language).

Do I need to have teaching experience before I apply? No, as long as you are willing to take a TEFL course and do 20-hours of volunteering in a classroom setting before your job in Europe begins. Slightly over half of our applicants do not have any teaching experience before applying to CETP.

Do I need a Bachelor's degree in English or Education to be eligible? No— any B.A. or B.S. degree will do. We work with a wide range of applicants, from all academic and professional backgrounds. We accept all majors, and in fact non-English majors may find themselves at an advantage, as many schools need teachers of history, social sciences, economics, and other subjects.

Is there an age limit? There is no age limit on either end, though of course most applicants are at least 21 because they've graduated from college. Several of our teachers are of or near retirement age.. Please note that good hearing is essential when teaching conversational English. Hungary requires that our teachers be in good health and verify this with a letter from their doctor.

"As an east coast American, I forgot that people could be so nice! Since the first day, the students have been really friendly and have paid special attention to me."

James Crandall
Hungary

How likely is it that you can find a teaching placement for me? We are continually recruiting new member schools, and in recent years have always had schools for all of our applicants who applied in a timely fashion (by July 30th for fall and by November 30th for winter). Of course those who apply earliest have the most options, though even those who sign on later most often end up with a school they love. While we do our best to place you in your first choice of town or region, and are able to meet applicants' criteria in the majority of cases, some flexibility is required. If an applicant is not accepted into the program, all fees paid will be refunded in full. For more information on refunds, please see our Terms & Conditions.

Can I teach anything else besides English? Yes. Most of our teachers teach conversational English, but a significant minority also teach classes such as History, Literature, German, Social Studies, American and British Culture, as well as various electives. All classes except German are taught in English. If you would like to teach something other than Conversational English, our schools welcome your proposals for electives to be taught in English. Some teachers coach basketball, soccer, or other sports as extracurricular activities.

How many hours a week will I work? The typical timetable is approximately 22 classroom hours per week, consisting of 4 – 5 hours per day, Monday through Friday. This does not include tasks such as planning lessons, marking essays, writing and marking exams, etc., which may add another 10 hours per week to your schedule.

Is this a real job, or am I volunteering or working as a teacher's assistant? This is a real job, and CETP teachers are full teachers, not assistants. Our teachers are employees of the host country government and are therefore subject to the same rules, regulations, and benefits as their local colleagues. CETP teachers receive a salary that is the same as that of host country teachers. Full health insurance is provided, as are paid holidays.

Can I go anywhere in Central Europe? Currently CETP is placing teachers in cities, towns, and villages throughout Hungary only. Although our list of schools is expanding yearly, there can be a lot of competition for Budapest and surrounding areas. Your ability to attract a job offer from our schools depends in part on your enrollment packet, a copy of which will be forwarded to suitable schools. The CETP staff will do our best to help you get a placement in the region you are looking for, but applicants must remain flexible.

Can I go with my friend, partner, spouse, or child? We can place friends applying together, as well as spouses and partners. However, if you are coming with school-age children, it is often difficult for them to receive English instruction in some required courses such as math.

I noticed that CETP requires "notarized documents," such as a notarized copy of my diploma. What is this? In order to process your work permit, your CETP host school will need to submit a notarized copy of your college or university diploma, and other documents, to the local labor authorities. When you get a photocopy of a document notarized for CETP, you are asking someone who is a registered public notary to sign, stamp, and date the photocopy, attesting to the fact that the photocopy is a "true and exact copy" of the original document, nothing more. You do not need the notary to notarize any other aspect of the document, such as the validity of the information contained in the document, or the signatures on the document.

How do I notarize documents? First, make a good quality black-and-white photocopy of your original document. Then take both the original document and the photocopy to a public notary, which you can find at any bank or copy shop. Ask the notary to certify that the photocopy you have is a "true and exact copy of the original." Ask the notary to sign and stamp the photocopy itself.

When should I apply? We recommend that you apply as soon as you are sure you want to teach in Central Europe. Applying early will increase your chances of getting placed in a host institution that most closely meets your preferences. If you have special placement needs (requesting a particular city, wishing to be placed with a friend or partner, bringing a pet) please apply early if possible!

How late can I apply? We can nearly always place last minute teachers in August for fall.

Can I submit an incomplete application? CETP welcomes applications from college seniors, and we realized that some applicants will not be able to get teaching experience, earn a TEFL certificate, or have their diploma in hand until shortly before departing for Hungary. If you have a special reason for needing a deadline extension, we will of course try to accommodate you. However, we may not be able to proceed with your placement until your application is complete. If you would like to request an extension on the deadline for submission of any of the application documents, please enclose a short written explanation, telling us when we can expect the missing application materials.

"In Hungary, my confidence increased as far as my ability to communicate with people and my ability to touch other people's lives."

Program Details

Length of Program Normally, the minimum length of time that you can participate in CETP is one semester, however most of our participants teach for the standard school year, September to June. If you are applying with a friend, it may be possible to arrange a placement in which one of you agrees to work September to January while the other agrees to work in the same position February to June of the same school year. Extending your placement for an additional semester or year is usually possible (see below).

Extending Your Placement If you wish to extend your placement for an additional year, you will need to notify CETP in writing by March 15th. Your renewal fee is due by May 1st. To extend a fall semester placement to cover the full year, you will need to notify CETP by October 15th. The renewal fee is due by November 15th. If extending for an additional year, you will also need to apply for a new visa (unless you are a citizen of an EU member state). CETP will assist you with applying for a new visa.

Insurance As state workers, all participants are covered through the health care plan of their host country government. This insurance covers all medical services, from doctor's visits to low-cost prescriptions to surgery. In addition, all US participants are required to obtain either the International Student Identity Card or the International Teacher Identity Card, both of which provide travel and emergency evacuation insurance. Visit your nearest STA Travel agency, or call 1-800-781-4040 to order your ID card. The cost is approximately $25. The ISIC and ITIC cards include

- Discounted student/teacher airfares
- Sickness and accident travel insurance
- 24-hour global emergency assistance

Depending on your needs, you may prefer to also purchase an insurance policy specifically designed for those living abroad. Prices usually begin at around $50 per month, and most travel agencies and travel guidebooks can recommend some reputable programs.

Visas CETP will provide you with all the documentation you need to apply for a visa to teach in Hungary (not necessary for citizens of EU member states.) Your passport must be valid for at least one year beyond the end of your planned stay in Hungary. The Hungarian consulate will not accept passports in poor condition, or with few remaining blank pages. If your passport is even slightly damaged, or has only a few blank pages, you are strongly advised to obtain a new one well before applying for your visa.

Finances CETP teachers receive a salary that is average by local host country standards. This salary is adequate to cover reasonable living expenses plus regional travel. However, we recommend that teachers have a minimum of $500 available to them if needed—more if substantial travels are planned. Teachers will need money to tide them over until their first paycheck arrives approximately a month after the start of the semester. They will also need to cover personal expenses while at orientation. Although most teachers can live reasonably well on their teacher salaries, many find that private tutoring helps make ends meet; and others dip into their US savings accounts on a regular basis to fund the type of lifestyle they want to enjoy in Central Europe.

Cancellations

Please see the Terms & Conditions for cancellation information.

Terms and Conditions

As an applicant to the Central European Teaching Program (hereafter referred to as "CETP"), I am aware that my participation in the program is contingent upon my understanding and agreement to uphold CETP's Terms and Conditions which are listed below.

The applicant agrees that all the information provided in the application is true to the best of their knowledge and acknowledges that any false or misleading information may lead to immediate dismissal from the program.

CETP reserves the right to reject any applicant who fails to meet program eligibility criteria, or whose employ is not considered to be in the general interests of the program. In the event that CETP refuses an applicant's acceptance into the program, all fees received shall be refunded.

FEES

The participant agrees to pay all fees in full before departure, in accordance with the following guidelines:

- All applicants must pay a $500 enrollment fee at the time of application.
- Applicants for fall semester must pay 50% of the remainder by April 1st with the final payment due no later than May 15th. For those applying after these dates, all fees are due at time of application unless an agreement is reached with CETP to pay later.
- Applicants for winter semester must pay 50% of the remaining fee by September 15th with the final payment due no later than October 15th. For those applying after these dates, all fees are due at time of application unless an agreement is reached with CETP to pay later.
- All fees must be paid prior to our sending you the necessary documentation to apply for your residence visa.

CANCELLATIONS / WITHDRAWALS

All cancellations must be provided to CETP in writing. Verbal cancellations are not acceptable. Participants who withdraw from CETP are liable to pay a cancellation fee of $500. This cancellation fee is covered by the applicant forfeiting his or her Enrollment Fee, or forfeiting $500 from other fees or deposits already paid to CETP.

The date of receipt by our office will determine your cancellation date. Fees paid to CETP prior to cancellation will be refunded as follows:

- Applicant not accepted into CETP: Full refund.
- Cancel on or before May 31 (October 1 for winter): Full refund.
- Cancel on or after June 1 (November 1st for winter): Full refund less the $500 cancellation fee.

CETP cannot refund fees should a participant decide, after arrival in the host country, that he or she is unsuitable for participation on the program.

The participant must supply CETP with the name and contact details of next of kin, to be contacted in the case of an emergency.

The participant is responsible for reading and carefully considering all materials made available that relate to safety, health, legal, environmental, political, cultural and religious customs and conditions in their host community; and must be aware of local conditions that may present health or safety risks when making daily choices and decisions. Each participant must take full responsibility in the event that laws, regulations, or customs are broken, regardless of foreknowledge.

Participation on the program begins on the first day of orientation in the host country or the first day a participant is required to be at their assigned school, whichever date is earlier, and the program ends on the last day of a participant's (initial) teaching assignment.

Should a participant choose to renew in the program for a further term of service, the participant is responsible for paying CETP the appropriate extension fee in order to remain a participant in the program.

It should be understood by the participant that the working and living conditions in the host country are likely to be very different to those in the participant's home country, and in some instances may be quite basic. Much of the information concerning the program, the host institution, and the host country is provided to CETP by the host institution or others. While CETP believes this information to be generally correct, CETP cannot guarantee its accuracy or timeliness and thus makes no representations or warranties about these statements or the actual conditions.

The participant agrees to accept his or her living conditions and to respect the host institution's guidelines and policies, including those with regard to conduct, delinquency, salary and terms of employment.

Although CETP operates this program, other terms and conditions applicable to the participant will be contained in a separate contract between the participant and the host institution. CETP will endeavor to monitor compliance with the contract by the host institution; however, CETP has no power or authority to enforce compliance by the host institution, and shall not be responsible for any failure by the host institution to comply with such contract.

All travel before, during and after the program is at the participant's own risk. Any participant who chooses to operate motorized vehicles is responsible for obtaining the necessary license, permission and insurance and does so at his or her own risk.

While CETP will always endeavor to fulfill its responsibilities, CETP cannot accept liability or responsibility for any alterations, delay or cancellation caused by threat of war, fire, sickness, bad weather, acts of government or public authority or other circumstances amounting to a "force majeure."

5. Living in a small studio apartment
6. Living in a private apartment that is attached to your school (former caretaker’s apartments)
7. Living in a cement, Communist-style housing block (externally similar to low-income housing projects in the U.S.)
8. Not having a dryer on the premises
9. Not having a phone in your apartment (We require that you purchase a cell phone)
10. Having to commute half an hour or more on public transportation to travel to your school

Which of the above possibilities bothers you most and why? What personality traits have prepared you to deal with the above possibilities?

How will you react if your students voice opinions in class that you find offensive (e.g. sexist/ racist/anti-American/homophobic/ other)?

Statement of Purpose

Please provide a typed essay, maximum two pages, that answers the following questions:

- 1) What are your main reasons for wishing to teach in Central Europe?
- 2) What life experiences have prepared you for living and working abroad?
- 3) What teaching methods would you employ, and what materials would you bring from home to use in the classroom?
- 4) Given the fact that Central Europe has been experiencing a huge influx of western ideas and culture - not all of which are good or universally appreciated - how would you define your potential role as:
 - an American*?
 - a teacher?
 - a temporary member of a Central European community?

(*Please amend accordingly if you are not American.)

Please also include information on recent overseas study/work experiences—any other experiences that are relevant to teaching Central European students—your hobbies and interests—anything else you would like the decision committee to know about you

CENTRAL EUROPEAN TEACHING PROGRAM

CETP United States Office
3800 NE 72nd Avenue
Portland, OR 97213-5710

The Central European Teaching Program, originally called Teach Hungary, was founded by Lesley Davis in 1991, after a year of teaching English and French at Horváth Mihály Gimnázium in Szentes, Hungary. During her year as a teacher in Hungary, Lesley was often approached by Hungarian English teachers and school directors requesting help recruiting native speakers of English as English Conversation Teachers for their schools.

Lesley saw the need for a structured teacher placement program which could send native speakers of English to teach in high schools in Hungary. Upon returning the US, she founded Teach Hungary to meet this need. Teach Hungary moved to Beloit College when Lesley came to work for the college's Office of International Education in 1992. The program grew rapidly, expanding to neighboring Central European countries. To reflect these changes, the program name was changed to the Central European Teaching Program, or CETP.

In 2003, Beloit College chose to end its affiliation with CETP. The program's Hungarian director, Hajni Vancsik, along with then CETP teacher, Mary Rose, decided to continue the Central European Teaching Program. Currently CETP works exclusively with schools in Hungary, though we are exploring the option of expanding into other Central European countries.

AGREEMENT FOR PARTICIPATION IN THE
CENTRAL EUROPEAN TEACHING PROGRAM

As an applicant to the Central European Teaching Program (hereafter referred to as "CETP" or the "Program"), I am aware that my participation in the Program is contingent upon my understanding and agreeing with CETP's terms and conditions that are set forth herein (the "Terms and Conditions").

The applicant agrees that all information provided in his or her application is true to the best of the applicant's knowledge and acknowledges that any false or misleading information may lead to immediate dismissal from the Program.

CETP reserves the right to reject any applicant who fails to meet eligibility criteria, or who, for any reason, is deemed unsuitable for the Program. In the event that CETP refuses an applicant into the Program, all fees received from the applicant shall be refunded.

FEES

The applicant agrees to pay all fees in full before departure, in accordance with the following guidelines:

- All applicants for the Program must have their fee at the CETP office, 3800 NE 72nd Avenue, Portland, Oregon 97213 (the "CETP Portland Office") before they can receive their Education Ministry invitation letter.

CANCELLATIONS / WITHDRAWALS

All cancellations must be provided to CETP in writing. Verbal cancellations will not be accepted. Applicants who withdraw from CETP after receiving their Education Ministry invitation letter will be charged a cancellation fee of $500.00. All fees received from the applicant, less the $500.00 cancellation fee, shall be refunded.

If an applicant withdraws from the Program after receiving a formal "letter of invitation" from the Education Ministry, the applicant consents to not use the invitation letter to attempt to find a teaching position in the country issuing the letter outside the CETP Program. If the consulate has issued the applicant a work visa, the applicant further consents to not use the visa to obtain work in the country issuing the visa other than through CETP.

CETP will not refund fees should an applicant decide, after arrival in the host country, that the applicant is unsuitable for participation in the Program.

In the event that for any reason an applicant does not complete the term of the contract with the host institution, CETP is not obligated to refund any of the applicant's fees.

PLACEMENT

While CETP can recommend matches and specific placements to authorities in the host country, CETP does not itself have the authority to make ultimate placement decisions. All final placement decisions are made by the host country's government and officials, who in turn communicate those decisions to CETP. The applicant must be prepared to accept the placement offered by CETP and its host country partners. While every effort will be made to fulfill placement requests, CETP cannot guarantee that it will be able to do so in all instances.

CONDITIONS OF EMPLOYMENT

The applicant must understand that the host country's embassy or consulate has complete authority to deny or approve the issuance of any visa. CETP accepts no responsibility for visa denials or delays in issuing visas by the host country's embassy or consulate. To allow for ample visa processing time, applicants are advised to apply to CETP no later than sixty (60) days before expected departure. Applicants to the Hungary Program are advised not to book a flight until after the Education Ministry has issued its formal "letter of invitation."

CETP reserves the right to dismiss from the Program any applicant who is deemed, in the sole judgment of CETP, the host institution, or host country authorities, to be a danger to the applicant or to others or whose conduct is deemed to be detrimental to the Program or the host institution. In the event of such dismissal, CETP shall not be held responsible for any airfare or other expenses incurred by the applicant, and shall not be required to return any fees paid by the applicant.

All conditions of employment and the availability of all positions are subject to change without notice.

The applicant shall be responsible for and held liable for any loss or damage resulting from the applicant's acts while the applicant is in the Program. The applicant shall indemnify and hold harmless CETP, the host institution, and their respective affiliates, employees, agents, directors, trustees, and representatives from and against any loss or damage they or any of them may suffer as a result of or arising from the acts of the applicant. Such indemnification shall cover any and all claims, causes of action, judgments, losses, costs, or expenses, including, without limitation, reasonable attorney fees and costs, that may be made against any such party or which such party may suffer or incur as a result of or relating to any acts of the applicant.

The applicant is responsible for considering the applicant's personal health and safety needs when applying for or accepting a position in the Program. If the applicant suffers from any health or other condition that would create a risk for the applicant while abroad, he or she should not apply.

The applicant must supply CETP with the name and contact details of next of kin to be contacted in the case of an emergency.

The applicant is responsible for reading and carefully considering all materials made available that relate to safety, health, legal, environmental, political, cultural, and religious customs and conditions in the applicant's host country and community, and must be aware of local conditions that may present health or safety risks when making daily choices and decisions. The applicant must take full responsibility in the event that the applicant violates any laws, regulations, or customs, whether known or unknown.

The applicant must attend the orientation in the host country. Participation in the Program begins on the first day of orientation in the host country or on the first day the applicant is required to be at the applicant's host institution, whichever is earlier; and the Program ends on the last day of an applicant's teaching assignment. Should an applicant choose to continue with the Program for a further term of service, the applicant is responsible for paying CETP the appropriate extension fee in order to remain in the Program. Furthermore, an applicant may not continue at the school that CETP has chosen for them for an additional term without said applicant being under the auspices of CETP.

Working and living conditions in the host country are likely to be very different from those in the applicant's home country, and in some instances may be quite basic. Much of the information concerning the Program, the host institution, and the host country is provided to CETP by the host institution or others. While CETP believes this information to be generally correct, CETP cannot guarantee its accuracy or timeliness and thus makes no representations or warranties about these statements or the actual conditions.

The applicant agrees to accept the applicant's living conditions and to respect the host institution's guidelines and policies, including those with regard to conduct, delinquency, salary, and terms of employment.

Although CETP operates the Program, the applicant shall be further bound by the provisions of a separate contract between the applicant and the host institution. CETP will endeavor to monitor the host institution's compliance with such contract; however, CETP has no power or authority to enforce compliance by the host institution, and shall not be responsible for any failure by the host institution to so comply.

The applicant must provide CETP, no later than August 1st, 2010 with a copy of (i) a notarized letter from the applicant's doctor stating that the applicant has no communicable diseases, and (ii) the applicant's college or university diploma(s). The applicant must bring the original of the notarized doctor's letter and of the diploma(s) to the host country.

The applicant must show proof that the applicant has purchased travel insurance—which may be in the form of the International Teachers' Card—which in the event of illness or death during the applicant's tenure in the host country, will cover the cost of transporting the applicant or the applicant's remains back to the applicant's home country.

The applicant must agree to purchase a cell phone, either from the program for a fee of approximately $80 (which includes a time card) or independently. The phone must be operational in Hungary.

All travel before, during, and after the Program is at the applicant's own risk. Any applicant who chooses to operate a motorized vehicle is responsible for obtaining the necessary license, permit, and insurance and does so at the applicant's own risk.

While CETP will always endeavor to fulfill its responsibilities, CETP cannot accept liability or responsibility for any alterations, delays, or cancellations caused by threat of war, fire, sickness, weather, acts of government or public authority, or other circumstances amounting to a 'force majeure'.

AGREEMENT TO TERMS AND CONDITIONS

The undersigned applicant confirms that the statements contained in the applicant's CETP enrollment form are accurate to the best of the applicant's knowledge, and understands and accepts the Terms and Conditions of the Program. The undersigned applicant releases CETP, its affiliates, employees, agents, directors, trustees, and representatives, from and against all actions, causes of action, damages, claims, or demands which the applicant or the applicant's dependents may have for injuries, death, loss of property or money, or other damages which the applicant may incur as a result of participation in the CETP Program.
